EEF Team Update

Farewell Aurélie!

Aurélie will leave the EEF at the end of the week to take up a new professional challenge. For the last year and a half, her work has mainly focused on the communication of the EEF and event organisation.

"It was a pleasure collaborating with all of you and hopefully our paths will cross again!" AP

We wish all the best to Aurélie!

CEA Workshop
"Sustainable and low carbon fuels and chemicals – Time for take-off"

13 April 2023 – 10:00 - 16:00 (CET) | Brussels

Sustainable and low carbon fuels will play an essential role in achieving the European Union's ambitious energy transition objectives and reaching net zero by 2050. In particular, they will allow the "defossilisation" of industry sectors where electrification alone will not be sufficient. Representatives from the industry, RTOs and academia, the European Commission and the Member States, will gather to discuss the topic and the challenges ahead.
